LEADING CASES IN MODERN EQUITY

BY THOMAS BRETT,

Of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, LL.B.; London University, B.A.; late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts; Author of Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883; and Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Specially recommended as a text-book for 'The Final.'"—Solicitors' Journal, Jan. 21, 1888.

"Deserves high praise for the care and judgment evinced in its execution. Mr. Brett's index appears to be copious and complete."—Law Times.

"We have laid Mr Brett's book down with none but favourable and pleasurable feelings at the excellent manner in which he has accomplished his task. It is of the very first importance both to the student and the practitioner to have the principles of Equity collected in a handy form, and this want Mr. Brett has supplied. The notes to the cases are admirable in manner and lucid in language; and no little pains seem to have been bestowed in the arrangement of the cases themselves."—Law Magazine.

"Must prove of immense value to the profession. Mr. Brett has done all in his power to help students and practitioners by as far as possible grouping together cases dealing with the same classes of subjects. Among the more important matters decided will be found cases relating to trusts and trustees, mortgages, partnerships, relations between solicitors and clients, married women's property, and the religious education of children. A good index adds considerably to the usefulness of the work."—Daily Chronicle.

"The manner in which most of the cases are stated is admirable, being clear, concise and well expressed. As it is, we have no hesitation in saying that there is no better book, or one so good, from which the student can learn the most important decisions of courts of equity during recent years."—The Jurist

LEADING CASES IN MODERN EQUITY.

BY THOMAS BRETT,

of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law, LL.B.; London University, B.A.; late Scholar and Student of Trinity College, Dublin; Exhibitioner in Real Property and Equity; Holder of the First Certificate of Honour, Michaelmas, 1869; Joint Author of "Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts;" Author of "Brett's Bankruptcy Act, 1883;" and Lecturer in Equity to the Incorporated Law Society.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"Specially recommended as a text book for 'The Final.'"—Solicitors' Journal, Jan. 21, 1888.

"Deserves high praise for the care and judgment evinced in its compilation. Mr. Brett's index appears to be copious and complete."—Law Times.

"We have laid Mr. Brett's book down with none but favourable and pleasurable feelings at the excellent manner in which he has accomplished his task. It is of the very first importance both to the student and the practitioner to have the principles of Equity presented in a handy form, and this want Mr. Brett has supplied. The notes to the cases are admirable in manner and lucid in language; no little pains seem to have been bestowed in the arrangement of the cases themselves."—Law Magazine.

"Must prove of immense value to the profession. Mr. Brett has done all in his power to help students and practitioners by as far as possible grouping together the cases dealing with the same classes of subjects. Among the more important matters decided will be found cases relating to trusts and trustees, mortgages, partnerships, the relations between solicitors and clients, married women's property, and the religious education of children. A good index adds considerably to the usefulness of the work."—Daily Chronicle.

"The manner in which most of the cases are stated is admirable, being clear, concise, and well expressed. As it is, we have no hesitation in saying that there is no better book, or one so good, from which the student can learn the most important decisions of courts of equity during recent years."—The Jurist.

The Law Journal says, in the course of an exhaustive review:—"We are able confidently to recommend these Commentaries to Students, with whom we venture predict they will become deservedly popular. . . . . Mr. Brett's Commentaries are thoroughly comprehensive, and we have little but praise for the manner in which he discharged his self-imposed task. . . . . We are of opinion that Mr. Brett has produced a work of very considerable merit."

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

ENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French by M. Tarver....His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns φωναντα συνετοισιν undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY

By J. C. TARVER, Late French Master, Eton College.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver....His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name a recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy; execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns ἀνεκτὰ ἀνεκτοῦν undreamt of forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.
By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.
"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns φωναντα συνετοισιν undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

On applications for Injunctions, in addition to the above, a Copy of the Writ, and a Certificate of Writ issued, must also be sent.

ELEMENTARY LAW CLASSES, 1891–92.

BY

EDWARD HENRY BUSK, Esq., M.A., LL.B.

The instruction given in the Classes is specially designed for Articled Clerks who have not passed the Intermediate Examination. The work selected by the Examiners for the Intermediate Examinations in the year 1892, is Stephen's "Commentaries on the Laws of England," with the exception of Books IV. and VI. 11th edition. The text-book of the classes will be so much of the 11th edition of Stephen's Commentaries as is required for the Intermediate Examination.

The Classes will be held from 5.30 to 6.30 every Tuesday and Friday (except during Vacations) from October to June, according to the annexed Table.

At the Classes held on Tuesdays the Reader will treat of the following subjects:—

Stephen's Commentaries:

Introduction.—

Sect. I. The Study of the Law.
Sect. II. The nature of Laws in general.
Sect. III. The Laws of England.
Sect. IV. The Countries subject to the Laws of England.
Sect. V. The Kingdom of England itself.

Book II. (except Chapters 6 and 7). The Rights of Property, both Real and Personal, and Conveyancing; and the Law of Contracts.

At the Classes held on Fridays the Reader will treat of the following subjects:—

Stephen's Commentaries:

Book I. Personal Rights.
Book II. Chapters 6 and 7. Bankruptcy Law and Practice, and Probate and Administration.
Book III. Rights in Private Relations (such as parent and child, husband and wife, guardian and ward, master and servant, principal and agent, &c.)
Book V. Civil Injuries and their redress, including proceedings in Civil Actions in all branches of the Supreme Court of Judicature and in the Inferior Courts of Justice.

Conclusion in Volume 4.

Students are expected themselves to read the text-book, as the Reader, owing to the time at his disposal being limited, must confine himself to pointing out, elucidating, and illustrating such difficulties as the subject may present, and emphasizing what is of special importance.

Students who attend on Tuesdays and Fridays will be able, in one year, to prepare for the Intermediate Examination. But those Students who have it in their power to give a longer time to the study of Elementary Law are recommended to attend the first year, the Classes on Tuesdays only, and those on the Fridays in the following year; and, as will be seen below, they will incur no additional expense in fees by so doing.

Printed papers of questions similar to those given at the Intermediate Examination will be set by the Reader from time to time, and the answers will be corrected by him and returned to the Students.

The subscriptions payable for the Elementary Law Classes are as follows:—

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL

FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has read and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns φωνασκα συνεποσιν undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

BRETT'S COMMENTARIES on the PRESENT LAWS OF ENGLAND. By THOMAS BRETT, B.A., LL.B., Author of "Leading Cases in Modern Equity," and Joint Author of "Clerke and Brett's Conveyancing Acts, 1881–82."

 A main idea of this book is to bring into special prominence the present and living law, and only to deal with past law, or that which is practically obsolete, so far as it is necessary to enable the reader to understand the present.

The Law Journal says, in the course of an exhaustive review:—"We are able confidently to recommend these Commentaries to Students, with whom we venture to predict they will become deservedly popular. . . . . Mr. Brett's Commentaries are thoroughly comprehensive, and we have little but praise for the manner in which he has discharged his self-imposed task. . . . . We are of opinion that Mr. Brett has produced a work of very considerable merit."
